KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 3.—(UP)—E. C. (Sonny) Sundorph said on his arrival here today that he would continue on to Newark, N. J., in an effort to better the transcontinental speed record.

The Cleveland flier landed at municipal airport at 10:36 a. m. CST and after refueling left nine minutes later for Cleveland on the final lap of his route in the Bendix race.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 3.—(UP)—Seven surviving Bendix trophy racers sped eastward on a 2,100-mile flight to Cleveland today in a half dozen types of planes ranging from compact little speedsters to a two-motored transport.

Accidents last night and early today eliminated two racers before the take-offs.

Col. Roscoe Turner's "comet" plane was damaged in an explosion while mechanics were welding a gasoline tank on it, and Bob Perllich, of Glendale, Calif., smashed his Beechcraft cabin plane in a ground-loop while leaving the starting line at Union terminal airport here.

Possibility of Early Light Rate Vote Ends

All possibility of placing the light rate controversy before voters at the November 2 election was ended Friday, the deadline for submitting issues and for candidates to file their petitions.

The light rate contract fight is now in common pleas court due to a temporary injunction granted the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. restraining Mayor W. J. Graham from presenting referendum petitions to council, council from voting legislation to submit the issue to voters, and from certifying the petition to the board of elections.

Although the hearing on the injunction was assigned for Sept. 8 at 9 a. m. it was believed a postponement will be made. Carl Leist, solicitor, is convalescing from a recent operation and will be unable to handle the city's case at the present time. C. A. Leist, his father, who has assisted city officials during his son's illness, was authorized by council to ask for a postponement.

Under direction of Sheriff Earl Brandel, 13 deputies and 25 city policemen kept the good-natured pickets moving near the plant's two main entrances.

Three Ohio national guard observers, Brig. Gen. Frank D. Henderson, Col. E. P. Lawlor and Capt. F. G. Ruffner, were on hand as observers.

Checkers for the union, which is affiliated with the Committee for Industrial Organization, estimated that 175 non-strikers entered the plant at 8 a. m.

Company officials said that slightly more than 300 of the normal shift of 450 were in the plant and working. Production started on time, they said. The plant employs 1050 production workers, normally.

PUBLIC OFFICIALS MOVE TO FIGHT DISEASE SPREAD

Circleville and Pickaway counties are free of infantile paralysis, typhoid fever or any other contagious disease, Dr. A. D. Blackburn, health commissioner, declared Friday. Several other Ohio counties are combating mild epidemics.

CHICAGO, Sept. 3.—(UP)—An epidemic of quick-striking, deadly infantile paralysis, mysterious disease for which science has evolved a partial cure but not a preventive, spread northeastward across the center of the United States today.

The U. S. Public Health Service announced the epidemic was "mild" one. It reported 621 new cases in the country last week, and 492 the week before.

Public officials pressed parents, parents and civic organizations into a campaign to prevent more serious developments.

Already, more than a million children—potential victims—have been barred from schools in Chicago, Milwaukee, Buffalo, N. Y., Omaha, Neb., Waukegan, Wis., Fort Collins, Colo., and San Diego county, Cal. Detroit and Toronto, Ont., considered similar measures.

Police in Milwaukee and Waukegan, Wis., were under orders to prevent public gatherings of children, keep those under seven out of public parks and playgrounds, and rest parents who permit their children to loiter in crowds.

Chicago's 300 theatres refused to admit children under 16.

Origin of the disease and its method of spread are not fully understood, Dr. Morris Fishbein, editor of the Journal of the American Medical Association, said. It appeared on Page Eight.

TRIAL DEMANDED BY AUTOIST ON DRIVING CHARGE

Clyde Seymour, 24, of Pontius Lane, denied a charge of driving when intoxicated Friday morning before Judge J. W. Adkins in common pleas court. He asked a jury trial. The request was granted and the trial assigned for Sept. 9 at 9 a. m. His bond was fixed at $500.

Seymour was committed to the county jail.

Clyde Rogers, 20, of Columbus, was committed to the county jail when he failed to pay a fine of $10 and costs on an intoxication charge filed in common pleas court.

The charges were filed by J. S. Hoover, Ashville, who said he followed the youths south on Route 23 from South Bloomfield. Hoover called the sheriff's department to make the arrests.

It was understood that the French and British governments had agreed that French warships would protect British merchantmen and British warships would protect French merchantmen, so that any attacking submarine now faces combined threat from British and French fleets.

Southern Prisoners Protest New "Torture"

INMATES of the Knox county workhouse at Knoxville, Tenn., protest use of this new leg iron, termed a "pick", which is placed on the ankles of those who incur the disfavor of their keepers. The "picks" are 32 inches long and weigh four pounds. The workhouse has the appearance of a modern school but, inside, according to inmates, conditions harken back to the medieval. Inmates charged recently that it was not at all uncommon for a prisoner to be horse-whipped and one county commissioner is said to have admitted he approved of lashings for "unruly" prisoners. Behind the workhouse, out of view, is a box-like dungeon or "sweatbox" which is fitted with heavy chains. Officials say this is not used for prisoners—inmates declare otherwise.

FORMER EVERTS SCHOOL TEACHER IS DEAD AT 72

Funeral services will be conducted at 3 p. m. Saturday in the J. V. Halteman chapel, Lancaster, for Mrs. Jessie D. Pickering, 72, former Circleville school teacher, who died Thursday evening in Lancaster hospital.

Mrs. Pickering, the former Jessie Chaney, is survived by her husband, James T., prominent Fairfield county man; two daughters, Mrs. Hugo Polk of Cleveland and Mrs. Homer Riegel of Columbus; and a son, William C., Lancaster city solicitor. The Pickering home is near Clearport.

POWER PROJECT OKEHD; PRIVATE FIRMS TO APPEAL

COLUMBIA, S. C., Sept. 3.—(UP)—Three private power companies today were expected to appeal a decision of U. S. District Judge J. Lyles Glenn that upheld constitutionality of the $37,500,000 Santee Cooper hydro-electric and navigation project.

Judge Glenn denied the private utilities an injunction which would have locked the lower South Carolina development and ruled that "the P.W.A. statutes of the emergency relief appropriation are not unconstitutional."

Private power companies seeking to enjoin development of the project were the South Carolina Electric and Gas Co.; the South Carolina Power and Light Co.; and the Carolina Power and Light Co.

The companies challenged constitutionality of issuance of funds to finance the vast development by P.W.A. Judge Glenn overruled them on every contention and held that the Federal Power commission acted within its authority in issuing a license for Santee-Cooper construction.

The jurist further upheld right of the South Carolina legislature to sponsor the project, holding that the question for adjudication was one of power and not one of wisdom.

GUNNERS SHOOT OVER U. S. SHIP NEAR SHANGHAI

Chinese Artillery Attacks Japanese Warships In Whangpoo River

SETTLEMENT IN DANGER

Tokyo's Troops Unable To Penetrate Defenses

SHANGHAI, Sept. 3.—(UP)—A big gun duel between Chinese artillery and Japanese warships brought American navy men, marines and civilians under direct fire today and threatened momentary disaster to the millions crowded in the international settlement.

Shells, shrapnel fragments, machine gun and rifle bullets rained on the borders of the foreign area and in the Whangpoo river where the United States cruiser Augusta and other American and foreign warships are anchored.

It seemed that any moment a vagrant shell must crash down on a foreign warship or into the heart of the international settlement.

At no time during the battle for Shanghai had firing in the city area proper reached such a peak of fury.

Japanese Battered
Something had gone wrong with the Japanese offensive, announced almost contemptuously, that was to have annihilated the Chinese army days ago. Today opened the fourth week of the battle, perhaps, unprecedented—and the Chinese opened it with a new challenge to the war machine of Japan.

In mid-morning, new Chinese batteries of surprising strength suddenly opened fire on Japanese warships anchored in the Whangpoo and on the Hongkew section. Japanese controlled, of the international settlement.

Coincidentally there came the staccato rattle of machine gun and rifle fire—Chinese soldiers in plain clothes had infiltrated into the Hongkew area and were raking Japanese areas with deadly fire.

On the Pootung side of the river, close to the United States cruiser Augusta, a big force of Chinese plain clothes men suddenly appeared on a dock and, mounting machine guns, sent a stream of steel-jacketed bullets at Japanese warships and a transport in the Whangpoo.

Great artillery shells smashed down on the Japanese consulate building, at the mouth of Soochow creek. Directly across this creek, which runs through the settlement, foreigners and a million Chinese refugees are massed in the south part of the foreign area.

A matter of a couple of hundred feet became a matter of life and death to hundreds in the settlement—or to foreign warships.

STRIKERS WATCH AS MANY RETURN TO SHOE PLANT

PORTSMOUTH, Sept. 3—(UP)—

The Williams Manufacturing company, closed since Aug. 16 by a strike called by the United Shoe Workers, was reopened today under terms of a court injunction.

There was no disorder as non-strikers walked through a picket line of about 300 persons, many of them young women clad in slacks. Some wore overalls.

Under direction of Sheriff Earl Brandel, 13 deputies and 25 city policemen kept the good-natured pickets moving near the plant's two main entrances.

Three Ohio national guard observers, Brig. Gen. Frank D. Henderson, Col. E. P. Lawlor and Capt. F. G. Ruffner, were on hand as observers.

KONG KONG, Sept. 3—(UP)—The estimated death toll in the typhoon which struck Hong Kong this week jumped today with reports of a tidal wave in outlying districts along the Pearl river which swept a six-foot wall of water a quarter mile inland, destroying all Chinese villages in its path and causing at least 200 deaths.

With the 100 deaths reported in the Hong Kong district proper, it was estimated in some quarters that the casualties in the entire area might reach 1,000 to 3,000.

The Sino-Japanese Scene

Developments today in the Chinese-Japanese war:

SHANGHAI—Terrific bombardment menaces foreign warships and civilians; U. S. Navy launch has narrow escape; Chinese, with new artillery, blast Japanese areas as Japanese troops are held north of city.

TOKYO—Parliament convenes in emergency session to approve huge war bills and give the government sweeping powers.

SHANGHAI—American labor organizing Japanese boycott, T. V. Soong, China's leading private citizen, says in interview.

SETTLEMENT IN DANGER

Tokyo's Troops Unable To Penetrate Defenses

SHANGHAI, Sept. 3—(UP)—A big gun duel between Chinese artillery and Japanese warships brought American navy men, marines and civilians under direct fire today and threatened momentary disaster to the millions crowded in the international settlement.

Shells, shrapnel fragments, machine gun and rifle bullets rained on the borders of the foreign area and in the Whangpoo river where the United States cruiser Augusta and other American and foreign warships are anchored.

It seemed that any moment a vagrant shell must crash down on a foreign warship or into the heart of the international settlement.

At no time during the battle for Shanghai had firing in the city area proper reached such a peak of fury.

Japanese Balked

Something had gone wrong with the Japanese offensive, announced almost contemptuously, that was to have annihilated the Chinese army days ago. Today opened the fourth week of the battle, perhaps, unprecedented—and the Chinese opened it with a new challenge to the war machine of Japan.

In mid-morning, new Chinese batteries of surprising strength suddenly opened fire on Japanese warships anchored in the Whangpoo and on the Hongkew section, Japanese controlled, of the international settlement.

Coincidentally there came the staccato rattle of machine gun and rifle fire—Chinese soldiers in plain clothes had infiltrated into the Hongkew area and were raking Japanese areas with deadly fire.

On the Pootung side of the river, close to the United States cruiser Augusta, a big force of Chinese plain clothes men suddenly appeared on a dock and, mounting machine guns, sent a stream of steel-jacketed bullets at Japanese warships and a transport in the Whangpoo.

Great artillery shells smashed down on the Japanese consulate building, at the mouth of Soochow creek. Directly across this creek, which runs through the settlement, foreigners and a million Chinese refugees are massed in the south part of the foreign area. A matter of a couple of hundred feet became a matter of life and death to hundreds in the settlement—or to foreign warships.

OF CLOVER, ALFA DURING WINTER IS TOLD

Agronomy Expert Warns Not To Rob Legumes of Chance To Store Food

LATE CUTTING DANGEROUS

Drainage Improvement May Be of Assistance

COLUMBUS, Sept. 3.—Robbing legumes and grasses of the chance to store up food for the winter and spring will greatly increase the chances of winter injury to the plants and will certainly retard the starting of growth next year, according to Earl Jones, specialist in agronomy, Ohio State University.

Alfalfa and June and sweet clover which go into the winter without enough food supplies are much more apt to be heaved from the soil by freezes next winter. All these plants store food in the roots if they are permitted to retain enough foliage late in the summer. June clover and alfalfa should not be cut or clipped after Sept. 10 in Ohio. Sweet clover should not be pastured or clipped the year it is seeded.

Pasture and lawn grasses are damaged by close cutting, overgrazing, or late pasturing. Anyone who wants to test this statement made by Mr. Jones can remove all the top-growth from a small plot of grass in the lawn or pasture field and observe how long it is before growth starts again. In pasturing, it is better to graze off a growth of grass and then remove the livestock than to overgraze the field continuously. Grasses are not damaged as much by winter heaving as are clovers and alfalfa so it is a good policy in Ohio to sow grass seed with the legumes. The matted roots of the grass around the legumes help hold them in place during freezing weather.

Mr. Jones says alfalfa and clover should be 10 inches high Nov. 1 to furnish insurance that the plants have had a chance to manufacture food and store it in the roots. Less injury is caused if this growth is harvested after Nov. 1 than if it had been removed earlier while the plant was making and storing food.

Other methods which Ohio farmers can use to reduce winter damage to meadows and pastures are to apply lime and to improve the drainage on fields which tend to be wet. The lifting of plants from the soil by frost occurs most often on wet soils and tile and lime will aid in correcting soil conditions which favor winter damage to forage plants.

By S. D. FRIDLEY

Today, this Friday at 6:30 by the big clock on the court house, is the last minute and "dead line" for filing petitions, if your name is to appear on the November ballot. A new petition was being circulated in Ashville yesterday with, we are told, the names of those who are willing to serve as village councilmen. Looks now as if politics will have "some heat" applied to it before November.

Martins to Return
Prof. Martin, our school principal, with his family, has been vacationing in the east for some time. A card received from them yesterday from Old Orchard, Me., said they are starting for Ashville Thursday morning and may be expected home soon. Said it is very hot there and the water is fine. Said Betty Baum came there last night.

Veterinarian Cromley in talking to a sheep grower yesterday, said that stomach worms seem to be extra numerous among the flocks this season. Foul pasture, he said, was the main cause of the trouble. If new pasture could be supplied

Ashville—
Light Impresses

While standing on the sidewalk at Long and Main streets, yesterday, a young man accompanied by a much older one, whom we felt sure was his father took time out with their auto to obey the order the Boos traffic light was giving them. They were out-of-state people and stopped there long enough to see the moving hand on the dial make a couple of rounds. They were much interested in what they saw and said "that in all their travels they had never seen anything like it." The Boos light in Ashville is likely the only one of its kind in the U.S.A.

CHILD, 14, PLACED IN RESPIRATOR, DIES IN DENVER

DENVER, Colo., Sept. 3.—(UP)—There were three respirators today for Shirley Krause, instead of one for her to share with another little girl whose lungs also had been partially paralyzed.

Maybelle Outcalt, 14, was dead, and two mechanical lungs that were speeded across the country by airplane and train, were no longer needed.

Shirley, who is two and a half years old, was gaining strength today and it appeared that the race against death was half-won. Until the two extra respirators arrived, there was a 36-hour period when Denver had only one machine and two girls who needed it. At any moment that both girls should have begun to sink at once, the staff at Steele Memorial hospital would have had to choose between their lives.

Both girls suffered infantile paralysis. Maybelle was brought to the hospital in mid-week in a critical condition. Her brother, George, 17, died of the disease last week and her parents were quarantined with three other children.

CARE OF CLOVER, ALFALFA DURING WINTER IS TOLD

Dargusch Expected To Have

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 3—(UP)—The machinery for the investigation of Ohio's taxation structure was set in motion today with the election of Sen. Keith Lawrence, D., Cuyahoga, senate majority leader, as chairman of a special investigating commission.

Lawrence was elected yesterday at the organization meeting of the special commission on taxation and revenues, created by resolution of the legislature to study a "just and equitable" tax system.

Rep. P. E. Ward, R., Geauga, was named vice president and Rep. Floyd F. Mees, R., Meigs, secretary. The commission is composed of five senators, five representatives and five persons named by the governor.

The commission adjourned subject to call by Chairman Lawrence, who also was authorized to name a five member sub-committee to determine whether tax research should be employed in the inquiry.

It was believed Carlton S. Dargusch, former vice chairman of the state tax commission, will be named sub-committee chairman.

GRACE MOORE OF OPERA, PICTURES IS IN HOSPITAL

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 3—(UP)—Grace Moore, the movie star and grand opera singer, was in a hospital today for a major operation, the nature of which her doctor refused to discuss.

Dr. Samuel Hirschfeld said he would perform the operation within the next few days but all plans for it were kept secret. The surgeon said it would not even be revealed which hospital Miss Moore was in, because she must have absolute rest during convalescence.

Miss Moore had planned to leave this week-end for an European vacation with her husband, Valentine Parera. The trip was postponed because her physician advised that she undergo the operation at once.

She was reported to be in Santa Monica, but all hospitals there denied that she had entered. Dr. Hirschfeld said Miss Moore would be confined about three weeks. Parera, a Spanish actor, made arrangements to remain at the hospital with her constantly.

Seen in Hollywood—Fingerless red mitts, as accompaniment to a red printed frock, with a wide brimmed red hat. Very effective.

God Requires Social Justice

"BRASS TACKS" ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson on the above topic for Sept. 5 is Leviticus 19:1-18, 32, 37, especially verses 9-18, 32-37, the Golden Text being Luke 6:11 "As ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them likewise."

What more appropriate subject for our study on this "Labor Sunday" than the subject "Social Justice". And it is interesting to note that we study it in the light of God's word embodied in the Mosaic code nearly three and a half millennia ago. Fundamental principles embodying essential truth do not change with the passing of centuries. "Equal Justice Under Law" is the slogan engraved over the entrance to the magnificent new temple of the supreme court in our national capital. That word "Equal" would make doubly sure that justice is dispensed impartially to all social classes.

Holiness Basic to Justice

God goes down to bed rock for the foundation of social justice when he demands that it be based on holiness: "And Jehovah spake unto Moses, saying, Speak unto all the congregation of the children of Israel and say unto them, ye shall be holy; for I, Jehovah your God, am holy." We are to partake of the likeness of God we worship. Our strongest argument for the incentive to holy living is God's holiness. Our deed must become our creed; our ethics must accord with our religion.

Thus through 21 varying social relations, beginning in the home and reaching outward in ever widening circles, God's nature is held up for us to match in all of our dealings with him and our neighbor: "ye shall fear every man his mother, and his father, . . . I am Jehovah your God." "And when ye reap the harvest of your land, thou shalt not wholly reap the corners of thy field, neither shalt thou gather the gleaning of thy harvest. . . . Thou shalt leave them for the poor and for the sojourner: I am Jehovah your God." Poor relief is not the concern of a distant and impersonal government; it is the heart to heart concern of every man for his needy neighbor, willing to share as God has shared with him.

Industrial justice is sought through the same high appeal: "Ye shall not steal; neither shall ye deal falsely, nor lie on to another. . . . I am Jehovah. Thou shalt not oppress thy neighbor, nor rob him: the wages of a hired servant shall not abide with thee all night until the morning. Thou

MAYORS OF TWO VILLAGES ASKING FOR RE-ELECTION

Mayors of Williamsport and New Holland will seek re-election under petitions on file with the board of elections Friday. Both are independent tickets.

Those seeking offices in Williamsport are William D. Radcliff, mayor; Lee Luellen, clerk; Fern Ziegler, treasurer; S. Blaine Ater, marshal; S. B. Metzger, W. D. Heiskell, Ansel Dreisbach, Roy E. Hinkel, Harry McGhee and H. W. Campbell, members of council; C. W. Hays, M. S. Shaw and F. B. Kibby, members of the board of trustees of public affairs.

New Holland's ticket includes C. V. Stebleton, mayor; John T. Dick, treasurer; Thomas Doyle, marshal; May Kibler, clerk; William Mitchell, Herbert E. Louis, Clark C. Bryant, Jesse Barnes, W. K. Briggs and O. C. Dennis, members of council.

shalt not curse the deaf, nor put a stumbling block before the blind; but thou shalt fear thy God: I am Jehovah. Ye shall do no unrighteousness in judgment; thou shalt not respect the person of the poor, nor honor the person of the mighty; but in righteousness shalt thou judge thy neighbor. . . . Thou shalt not take vengeance, nor bear any grudge against the children of thy people; but thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself: I am Jehovah. . . . Ye shall do no unrighteousness in judgment, in measure of length, or of weight, or of quantity. . . . Just balances, just weights shall ye have: I am Jehovah your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt." Just wages, just working conditions, just service for wages paid, just treatment of both employer and employee by the other, just regard for the rights and welfare of one another—all these may be realized among us only as we pattern our conduct after the holiness and love of God, and for his sake love our neighbor as ourself.

LEWIS TO SEEK AID OF FARMERS IN C. I. O. DRIVE

Labor Leader Goes On Air

Union's Policies

TO BE SILENT ON F. D. R.

Common Economic Interests
To Be Cited In Talk

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3—(UP)—John L. Lewis will make a direct appeal to the farmers of the nation today to align themselves with his Committee for Industrial Organization on the basis of common economic interests.

He also will announce for the first time actual membership figures of his vertical unions and assert that "the C. I. O. has established itself as clearly the majority movement of American labor." For 51 years the American Federation of Labor has been numerically supreme among labor organizations.

Lewis will make these statements in a nationally-broadcast speech at 9:30 P. M., EST.

Unusual interest centers about the address because of consistently reported friction between the labor leader and President Roosevelt. Until the recent C. I. O. steel strike, Lewis was among the staunchest of the chief executive's friends and advocates and a frequent caller at the White House.

It was learned that Lewis will not mention the president specifically in his speech. Instead, he will include the federal administration in a general denunciation of what he considers unfair treatment of his steel strikers by officials, including those of states and cities.

By making no reference to Mr. Roosevelt, Lewis will avoid widening the reported breach. Nor will he express his lament with recent federal legislation. A source close to Lewis said that would leave the questionable contact between the two men "in a status quo position."

A Safety Tip FOR YOUR Labor Day Trip

TAPPING RUBBER TREES ON FIREFSTONE PLANTATIONS IN LIBERIA

From the Firestone plantations in Liberia comes an ever-increasing supply of the world's finest rubber. Money saved here and in manufacturing and distribution enable Firestone to sell a safer, first-quality tire at lower prices.

DON'T take chances on your Labor Day trip. Protect yourself and family by equipping your car with a set of new first-quality Firestone Standard Tires. Firestone builds extra quality and extra safety into these tires and sells them at lower prices because Firestone controls rubber and cotton supplies at their sources, manufactures with greater efficiency and distributes at lower cost.

PROTECTION AGAINST BLOWOUTS—8 extra pounds of rubber are added to every 100 pounds of cord by the patented Gum-Dipping process.

PROTECTION AGAINST PUNCTURES—because under the tread are two extra layers of Gum-Dipped cords.

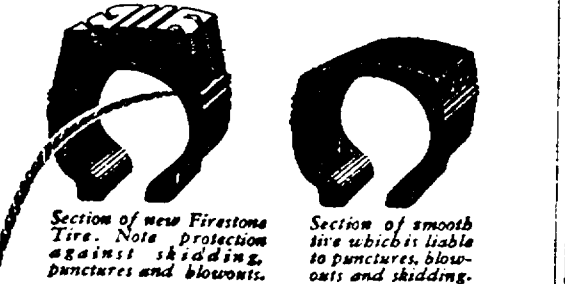

PROTECTION AGAINST SKIDDING—because the tread is scientifically designed.

LONGER NON-SKID MILEAGE—because of the extra tough, long-wearing tread. Join the Firestone SAVE A LIFE Campaign today by equipping your car with a set of new Firestone Standard Tires.

DON'T RISK YOUR LIFE ON SMOOTH WORN TIRES!

DO YOU KNOW THAT last year highway accidents cost the lives of more than 39,000 men, women and children?

THAT a million more were injured? THAT more than 40,000 of these deaths and injuries were caused directly by punctures, blowouts and skidding due to smooth, worn, unsafe tires?

Section of new Firestone tire, note protection against skidding, punctures and blowouts.

Section of smooth tire which is liable to punctures, blowouts and skidding.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 3—(UP)

The machinery for the investigation of Ohio's taxation structure was set in motion today with the election of Sen. Keith Lawrence, D., Cuyahoga, senate majority leader, as chairman of a special investigating commission.

Lawrence was elected yesterday at the organization meeting of the special commission on taxation and revenues, created by resolution of the legislature to study a "just and equitable" tax system.

Rep. P. E. Ward, R., Geauga, was named vice president and Rep. Floyd F. Mees, R., Meigs, secretary. The commission is composed of five senators, five representatives and five persons named by the governor.

The commission adjourned subject to call by Chairman Lawrence, who also was authorized to name a five member sub-committee to determine whether tax research should be employed in the inquiry.

It was believed Carlton S. Dargusch, former vice chairman of the state tax commission, will be named sub-committee chairman.

OPEN LETTERS

TO CITY CONUCL

MEMBERS: I believe that your ordinance establishing two-hour parking in the downtown district has failed to solve the traffic tangle on W. Main street. Last week seven minor auto collisions occurred between Scioto and Court streets. Fortunately there was no serious damage to cars or injury to passengers, but the report indicates some new regulations are needed for that particular district. Police are to be complimented on their efforts to keep cars moving on the street, but they are handicapped. I would suggest you try a shorter parking limit in that district. In the balance of the downtown district the two-hour regulation seems satisfactory. Autoists double-park on W. Main street largely for the purpose of loading merchandise into their cars. They are satisfied to park outside the restricted districts for shopping, but dislike the idea of carrying loads of merchandise to their cars. Sufficient time to load bundles is all the time they ask when double parking. I believe a 15-minute or half-hour limit on W. Main street would help to clear the traffic troubles.

TO CITY EDUCATORS

FRIENDS: To all who are responsible should go congratulations for splendid foresight in the decision to add a new health subject, to purchase books teaching Ohio history, and to stress safety during the next term of school. These subjects are timely, to say the least. Everyone is interested in health. Ohio pupils should be much more interested in their own state than in what happened in ancient Troy. Safety, especially on the highway, is being discussed in newspapers, on radio, in the pulpit, and in places of higher education, so why should it not be taught in the local high school.

CIRCUITEER

TO DR. BLACKBURN

COUNTY HEALTHER: The task you have undertaken as Pickaway county health commissioner is an important one. Your first duty is to administer to the health and welfare of residents of the county. Many problems that demand efficiency and training will appear before you. You should exercise good judgment and be prepared at all times for any emergency. Your training as an educator should go a long way in making your regime a successful one, because education does much to solve health problems. I wish you much success.

World At A Glance

—By—

Another congressional lobbyist hunt is just ahead in Washington.

Otherwise there would have been no necessity for filling up the senate lobby investigating committee's ranks, which was one of the last things attended to just before the lawmakers scattered following their recent adjournment.

The chairman of this committee was Hugo L. Black of Alabama, now boosted from the upper legislative chamber to a seat on the supreme bench.

That left a committee vacancy, which there would have been no necessity for refilling if it were considered that this particular group of inquisitors had finished its task; the quiz simply would have been permitted to lapse.

BLACK PUSHED IT

It will be recalled that, early in the last session, Chairman Black created a tremendous sensation by his remorseless "panning" of witnesses in connection with the lobby "probe," and by his subpenas of telegraphic records — records which the investigatees denied the committee had any right to pry into, under the Bill of Rights.

Later the supreme court "packed" row became so vociferous as to draw out the lobby rumpus. The attention also was directed, not only by the court

"packing" contest, but by the wage-hour labor fight as well; and by other urgent matters. In short, he had more on his hands than he could attend to. His anti-lobby activities were submerged, and an investigation doesn't amount to much.

Nevertheless it was a "peppy" inquiry while it lasted. Now it is to be set going again.

MINTON AMBITION

Black being out, Senator Sherman Minton of Indiana gravitates into the committee's chairmanship.

Minton, a much younger senator (in point of service) than Black, has yet to establish a reputation as formidable as Black's as a ferocious cross-examiner of witnesses. However, he gives plenty of promise, is ambitious and undoubtedly will do his utmost to improve even on his predecessor.

His fellow committee members are Senators Lewis B. Schwellenbach, Lynn J. Frazier and Ernest W. Gibson, respectively of Washington, North Dakota and Vermont. That leaves a vacancy (Black's). To fill it Senator Theodore F. Green of Rhode Island has been chosen.

TO RESIDENTS

FRIENDS: Reports that the National Re-employment Service here will be discontinued Sept. 15 have been circulated for the last few days. This service has been valuable to employers and workers and its removal from Circleville will be a decided loss. Hundreds of persons have been furnished employment through the office. At the present time requests for corn cutters are being filled as rapidly as they are received. I hope city and county officials make an effort to keep a branch of the service here.

CIRCUITEER

TO RETAILERS

MERCHANTS: All of you have received cards bearing names of nominees for the various offices in your association. It is your duty to mark the names of the persons you desire to assure election of the men you believe will prove the best leaders for the organization. The Circleville Retail Merchants' association is an active organization. Its duties are important since it should be the voice of all retail businesses in the city. Cast your ballot; be sure to have it in the mail before Saturday evening, and then attend the big meeting planned for next week at which time the result of the election will be known. The Retail association is your organization; you should support it actively.

TO THE WEATHER MAN

SIR: Your failure to produce sufficient rainfall has resulted in great damage to Pickaway county's late sweet corn crop. Why do you not go to work and spill a little moisture on the thirsting fields? Early in the year and even in mid-Summer you poured too much rainfall on the county's broad acres. In fact, you produced enough rain to impair all the crops in the Scioto's bottom land, and now you refuse to provide any of the much-needed moisture. Be a sport, what do you say?

CIRCUITEER

TO RURAL RESIDENTS

FOLK: The attention of Sheriff Charles Radcliff was called this week to reports of a group of itinerant vendors moving into Pickaway from Fayette county. He was informed that the group had misrepresented merchandise and failed to give proper measure. Rural residents should report suspicious persons to the sheriff's department and obtain license tag numbers to assist officers in checking on any cases of this type. The same warning applies to gypsies. Gypsy bands should be reported to the department. They will be ordered out of the county.

CIRCUITEER

TO CONSTABLE HEISE

OFFICER: Your drive on traffic violators is timely and you should have the full co-operation of other peace officers in your campaign. Schools open Sept. 13. This means hundreds of children will be crossing busy streets, some of them making their first trips to school. Circleville has had an epidemic of traffic violators this Summer and it is wise to teach some drivers lessons before the opening of school. Make your campaign thorough. You have the support of civic organizations and residents.

CHAPTER 40

CARLA MENTONE.

There is so much to tell about that far-famed name, yet the newspapers have surely acquainted you with all there is to say about her. When the thrice-divorced actress, beloved and scandalized on the continent and in New York, recently married the prince who forfeited his royal rights for her, there was almost nothing left unsaid of her, unless perhaps the things that Mari Barat was to learn from her.

For 10 years, since she had first burst upon Broadway—a homely, hoydenish ingenue—she had been a legend. In one season she had come out of nowhere, married and divorced a cornet player before the newspaper columns knew she was married. Then she had gone to London, played a season in an obscure play and returned to New York with jewels, sables, the smartest clothes seen in New York, and distinction.

That year she married the president of a steel corporation and set up a salon. For her wit she was quoted everywhere. For her charm she was accepted. Her racing colors were seen at the tracks. Her parties were a sensation at Palm Beach.

Then she was named in an unsavory divorce case and a brief social bubble burst. Her husband divorced her. The other man did not marry her, and the next thing New York heard of Carla Mentone, she was the talk of London. Kim Charing, playwright, poet, author, and social lion had written a dramatic play for her.

And from then on, for six years, Carla Mentone had reigned as the first lady of the theater and the choicest object of gossip on either side of the Atlantic.

Her admirers were allegedly without number. There was no credence given to the rumor—which was true—that she had married and divorced an obscure nobleman. But you remember all that. Perhaps you've attended a first night when New York was fortunate enough to have her for a brief season.

Perhaps you even remember that her name was linked with the Duke of G——. The sly notes in the gossip columns about Carla and her "Angie". And the pointed references to the jealousy of Angie's duchess.

What truth there was to the countless legends is uncertain. But this is known: Carla Mentone and her middle-aged Duke were at the Casino at Monte Carlo on a night that was to be memorable for all of them, perhaps most memorable for Mari Barat.

Each knew who the other was. Carla and Mari had measured each other, accorded each other the due accorded one artist to another. It had been done in no more than a glance. Perhaps it was at the bar. It was no longer than time for each to say to her escort, "Who is that?"

And for Reggie to murmur, "My dear, that's the glamorous Carla Mentone and," dropping his voice, "the Duke of . . ."

"Really?" Mari replied. "She's quite an improvement over his duchess. I met her when I was in London."

It was an hour or two later at the gaming table that Mari could never remember what sixth sense it was that made her see and feel at the same moment.

Voices were silent at that table, motions quick and adept, attention riveted on the spinning wheel, the dropping ball.

Mari, placing her chips on a square of black, looked up and saw that Carla Mentone was almost opposite her as she leaned over the table on a right angle side to where she stood. At the actress' shoulder, there was the beaming face of the duke.

Twice the wheel spun, twice the ball dropped. The croupier reached out with his rake and bets were placed again.

It was then that Mari's sixth sense summoned her attention. It was in the furtive movement of a woman standing motionless directly back of Reggie. Yet she wasn't motionless. It was her slight motion as she opened her handbag and took something small, bulky and ominous from her handbag that attracted Mari's attention and made her look with quick alarm to her face.

It was the duchess. And her eyes, narrowed to pinpoints, were fixed on the face of the actress.

And it seemed to Mari that all the room could hear Carla's bell-like voice as she turned and said to her Angie, "Darling, bank notes, please."

Mari was aware of everything at that moment, the nearness of scandal and tragedy, and the woman pressed between her and Reggie.

Later she couldn't remember how her numbed senses co-ordinated to do what she did. But somehow with one swift gesture she had leaned across the table holding a handful of bank notes out to Carla. And with that swift gesture she had fallen against Reggie, knocking aside the rising arm of the woman who pressed between them.

Her too-loud cry, "Here you are, Carla!" was plainly heard as the shot rang out and those at the table scattered.

"Get her out," she whispered to Reggie and nodded her head toward the duchess who stared dazedly at the smoking gun in her hand.

Then she reached across the table and took Carla Mentone's wrist.

The very force of her eyes fixed on Carla's ashen face lent force to the other woman. The two of them walked quietly and slowly from the room.

Back of them they heard agitated voices. "Who is she? . . . Why did she do it? . . . Has she been losing money? . . . But people do that you know. . . . Such an awkward place to try to commit suicide."

Very calmly Mari got her check and the check for the speechless Carla from her jeweled handbag, slipped the wrap about her shoulders and smiled. She even laughed and the trained actress took her cue and followed her rescuer's footsteps.

Somewhat Mari managed to hold her together until her car came around. Then she got her into the tonneau and told her she was taking her to Villa Mimosa.

It was a white and shaking Reggie who joined them a few minutes later.

"That gave me a bad scare," Reggie wiped his forehead with a crested handkerchief. "I thought somebody's husband had caught up with me."

Mari motioned to him to be still, that she had a guest.

"She's dynamite," he whispered. Carla Mentone leaned back against the cushions, her eyes closed, her breathing faint.

"Did anyone know?" she asked painfully.

"I don't think so," Reggie answered. "That sort of thing isn't too infrequent. At least they didn't know where she was aiming. In any event neither the police nor the Casino will take any action."

"Where are we going?" Carla asked after an interval.

"To my place—where you've been my guest since your arrival," Mari answered.

Carla was silent then until they arrived.

"Never be kind to men—only to women," Carla said before she closed her eyes in Mari's bed.

DIET AND HEALTH

Advising the Removal of Physical Handicaps

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
IN THESE ARTICLES on preparing the child for the opening of school, I naturally emphasize the prevention of the contagious diseases. Naturally because these constitute the greatest health hazard of any child. No child is born with immunity to them, and in school for the first time he is exposed over and over again, by repeated contacts to them.

Dr. Clendenning

So I repeat, the child going to school for the first time should have been—(1) vaccinated against smallpox; (2) vaccinated with toxoid against diphtheria; (3) vaccinated against typhoid fever and possibly against whooping cough and scarlet fever.

But at school the child is exposed to dangers from within, and it should be ascertained that he comes to his competitive job, so far as possible, with a healthy and efficient body.

This, as Dr. Allen G. Ireland says, is decidedly the parents' job, and it is the most important way in which he can help the school do a better job. Learning is not as simple as it appears to be. It means work, and effectiveness in work is a matter of fitness, that is physical and mental preparedness to do one's best. Teachers know how true it is. Too many of them are burdened with classes of unfit children.

The commonest handicaps are de-cayed teeth, sore gums, adenoids, diseased tonsils, defective vision, impaired hearing and malnutrition. To wait until after school opens frequently means loss of time for the pupil and further postponement by the parent. Consult your physician and dentist now. Have these handicaps to good school work removed before your child gets off to a poor start in the new term.

School Lunches Important

The Parent-Teacher association is engaged in many excellent projects for the welfare of children. But in my opinion they are making one contribution that stands out above the others. I refer to the school lunch, whether it is the mid-session milk luncheon or the organized hot luncheon at noon.

I mention this now because schools will soon be opening, and it is not too early for the Parent-Teacher association committees to start planning for the year. And perhaps never before has there been such a great need for good school lunches. The economic conditions of recent years have deprived hosts of children of physical and emotional security. Food has been less plentiful or it has not been wisely chosen. School boards have been forced to withdraw financial support of the luncheon.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Seven pamphlets by Dr. Clendenning can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin, for each, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clendenning, in care of this paper. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks' Reducing Diet," "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene," and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

TO CITY COUNCIL

MEMBERS: I believe that your ordinance establishing two-hour parking in the downtown district has failed to solve the traffic tangle on W. Main street. Last week seven minor auto collisions occurred between Scioto and Court streets. Fortunately there was no serious damage to cars or injury to passengers, but the report indicates some new regulations are needed for that particular district. Police are to be complimented on their efforts to keep cars moving on the street, but they are handicapped. I would suggest you try a shorter parking limit in that district. In the balance of the downtown district the two-hour regulation seems satisfactory. Autoists double-park on W. Main street largely for the purpose of loading merchandise into their cars. They are satisfied to park outside the restricted districts for shopping, but dislike the idea of carrying loads of merchandise to their cars. Sufficient time to load bundles is all the time they ask when double parking. I believe a 15-minute or half-hour limit on W. Main street would help to clear the traffic troubles.

TO CITY EDUCATORS

FRIENDS: To all who are responsible should go congratulations for splendid foresight in the decision to add a new health subject, to purchase books teaching Ohio history, and to stress safety during the next term of school. These subjects are timely, to say the least. Everyone is interested in health. Ohio pupils should be much more interested in their own state than in what happened in ancient Troy. Safety, especially on the highway, is being discussed in newspapers, on radio, in the pulpit, and in places of higher education, so why should it not be taught in the local high school.

World At A Glance

—By—
Charles P. Stewart

Another congressional lobbyist hunt is just ahead in Washington. Otherwise there would have been no necessity for filling up the senate lobby investigating committee's ranks, which was one of the last things attended to just before the lawmakers scattered following their recent adjournment.

The chairman of this committee was Hugo L. Black of Alabama, now boosted from the upper legislative chamber to a seat on the supreme bench.

That left a committee vacancy, which there would have been no necessity for refilling if it were considered that this particular group of inquisitors had finished its task; the quiz simply would have been permitted to lapse.

BLACK PUSHED IT

It will be recalled that, early in the last session, Chairman Black created a tremendous sensation by his remorseless "panning" of witnesses in connection with the lobby "probe", and by his subpenas of telegraphic records — records which the investigatees denied the committee had any right to pry into, under the Bill of Rights.

Nevertheless it was a "peppy" inquiry while it lasted. Now it is to be set going again.

TO RESUME WARFARE

The committee would not have been filled up if it had been intended to let it die.

Clearly the idea is to have it resume the warpath.

Its mission is plain enough. Its job is to jump on opponents of New Deal measures, and prove, if it can, that they are selfish lobbyists.

Then, when these measures come up for congressional consideration, their opponents will be more or less hamstrung by the committee's revelations. That is to say, such will be the case if the committee's revelations have been adequately convincing.

NEW DEAL STRATEGY

Briefly, the administration depends largely upon this committee to put through its program at the 1938 congressional session—or the 1937 extra session, if there is one. It must depend a great deal upon Senator Minton's efficiency as an investigator.

There have been lobby investigations before. This may prove, if Senator Minton measures up to administrative expectations, one of the most significant in congressional history.

I have not any prejudice in the matter. I merely am curious.

The commonest handicaps are de-

cayed teeth, sore gums, adenoids, diseased tonsils, defective vision, impaired hearing and malnutrition. To wait until after school opens frequently means loss of time for the pupil and further postponement by the parent. Consult your physician and dentist now. Have these handicaps to good school work removed before your child gets off to a poor start in the new term.

School Lunches Important
The Parent-Teacher association is engaged in many excellent projects for the welfare of children. But in my opinion they are making one contribution that stands out above the others. I refer to the school lunch, whether it is the mid-session milk luncheon or the organized hot luncheon at noon.

I mention this now because schools will soon be opening, and it is not too early for the Parent-Teacher association committees to start planning for the year. And perhaps never before has there been such a great need for good school lunches. The economic conditions of recent years have deprived hosts of children of physical and emotional security. Food has been less plentiful or it has not been wisely chosen. School boards have been forced to withdraw financial support of the luncheon.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Seven pamphlets by Dr. Clendenning can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin, for each, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clendenning, in care of this paper. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks' Reducing Diet," "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene," and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

You're Telling Me!

WE DON'T KNOW what the name of the most unpopular man in the world is, but we do know who he is. He's the Japanese war lord who has been ordering those air raids on defenseless Shanghai settlements.

Yep, the white race must be slipping. We thought that Spanish civil war was tops in ferocity until the Japanese really showed us something at Shanghai.

As the man at the next desk says the so-called hidden taxes constitute a national stomachache — none the less painful because you cannot see them.

The "discovery" of baby sea serpents in Loch Ness didn't get much of a newspaper play. The average reader, after finishing the latest bulletins from the war zones, isn't going to be frightened by a dozen monsters.

A great many congressmen, says an editorial, are as meek as rabbits. That can't be true — rabbits make no sound.

That newly discovered star shines with a brightness 500,000,-

000 times greater than that of the sun — and without the aid of a Hollywood press agent, either.

ECKHARDT SMACKS HOMER

Jeff Heath Keeps Brewers In Game With Pair

By UNITED PRESS
Tall-end teams of the American Association pennant chase rose up to smite the leaders, leaving positions of the first teams unchanged today.

The Columbus Red Birds were humiliated by a 5 to 0 shut-out at the hands of the cellar-dwelling Louisville team. Jack Tising, fast ball pitcher for the Colonels, fanned 10 Ohioans and limited the league leading sluggers to four one base hits.

A home run by Ox Eckhardt in the eighth inning proved to be the winning margin for Indianapolis over Toledo, 4 to 3, with Johnson, a relief hurler getting credit for the victory. The Hens because of their loss were unable to gain on the Red Birds.

Milwaukee, still traveling at a fast pace, subdued Minneapolis by a comfortable margin, 7 to 3, in a game which found Jeff Heath, Brewer outfielder, hitting two home runs and a double. Rookie Zuber, well supported by his mates at bat, had little trouble pitching the victory. Glynn also hammered a homer for the winners.

Kansas City relied on a former semi-pro hurler, young Al Nusser, signed after the recent tournament in Wichita where he was a star, but St. Paul's bats were a little too potent and the Blues were beaten, 8 to 7.

NEW YORK YANKEE PITCHER WHO HAS BEEN CONTRIBUTING A GOOD BIT TO THE PENNANT CAUSE

Giants Win Close Ones, While Cubs Blow Them

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—(UP)—The Giants are winning the close ones and the Cubs are blowing them—and that may be the answer to the National League pennant race.

The heat was on the Giants yesterday and they came through with a 5-4 victory over the Cardinals in 10 innings to increase their lead to one full game. But when the Dodgers put the pressure on the Cubs, the men of Charlie Grimm blew another game, 4-3, in 11 innings.

After a disastrous trip through the east, the Cubs were on their way home today to play 22 of their remaining 32 games. Unless the Cubs do an about face at Wrigley field they are in serious danger of fading out of the pennant battle.

The Cubs' eastern record was three wins and six losses. They tossed away three games with misplays.

An error by Phil Cavarretta started the Cubs' downfall yesterday. He made a wild throw to Bill Lee, covering first, in the eighth inning. Bucher doubled and Hasset singled, tying the score. Then Max Butcher's single drove in the winning run in the eleventh. It was the fifth time Bill Lee had tried to win game No. 13 and failed.

Long John McCarthy, labeled the biggest bust of the year, came through in the Giants' victory over the Cardinals with two homers which kept the Giants in the ball game until the tenth. His first came in the sixth with a man on, and his second in the eighth to tie the score, 3-3. With the Cards leading, 4-3, in the tenth, Mel Ott hit No. 30 to tie the score. Then Leiber, Danning and Whitehead singled in succession to drive in the winning run off Bob Weiland.

Young Bob Feller handcuffed the Yankees and pitched Cleveland to a 4-2 victory. Feller fanned 12 men and permitted only five hits. Feller blanked the Yanks with two hits until the eighth when Joe DiMaggio cracked homer No. 39. Doubles by Dickey and Selkirk scored the other run. Feller also hit a double and single.

Roger Kelly, national medalist and California champion, scratched Chick Evans of Chicago, eight times winner of the western, from the list, 4 and 3.

Stanford university's Bob Thompson eliminated Frank Strafac of Brooklyn, 1 up.

Other favorites met little trouble. Ray Billows of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., runner up in the National Amateur, took a 2 and 1 decision from J. E. French of San Francisco, c, then beat Frank Taylor of Pomona, Calif., 4 and 2. The tournament medalist, Charley Yates of Atlanta, whipped the flinx supposed to haunt all medalists and moved two steps up the ladder.

In the morning round he stroked an easy victory from Tommy Goodwin of Mamaronock, N. Y., 3 and 2, and later cut down Jim Black of St. Louis, 1 up on the 18th.

YESTERDAY'S HERO—Johnny McCarthy, Giants' first baseman who hit two homers and drove in three runs to play a big role in New York's victory over the Cardinals.

A NEGATIVE INFERENCE
WHEN A PLAYER is using the "three trump echo", the play of the middle trump followed by the bottom one shows possession of still another. Playing trumps in the normal way, with the smallest first and then the next highest, signifies that the holding is not of exactly three cards. The negative inference then conveyed, when the player manages to follow with a higher trump to a third round, makes it perfectly clear that if he had not three he had more than three and therefore retains a trump for ruffing or other purposes.

4-Spades, Millard P. Kaiser of St. Louis, who was paired with Mrs. Kaiser in the East, played the heart A and followed with the heart K. He then led a diamond, as the club suit seemed too dangerous to fool with. After winning with the diamond Q, the declarer cashed the spade K, on which Mr. Kaiser played the spade 2. When the spade A was played, West played the spade 5. On the spade J, West played his spade 8, and when Mrs. Kaiser won with the Q, she realized that Mr. Kaiser held one more trump, as otherwise he would not have played his trumps in the order in which he did. She therefore returned her heart J, knowing that her partner could ruff. Any other return would have enabled South to draw trumps and run the remaining hearts.

VOTERS OF THREE TOWNSHIPS TO BALLOT ON SCHOOL ISSUES NOVEMBER 2

DEERCREEK ASKS $30,000 TO BUILD NEW GYMNASIUM

Wayne Would Construct One-Room Addition to Present Structure

3-MILL LEVY AT SCIOTO

All Questions To Be Put On Official Ticket

Voters in three townships will ballot on school issues at the November election. Deercreek and Wayne township voters will consider bond issues for school additions while Scioto township residents will vote on a three-mill levy for operating expenses.

A bond issue of $30,000 is proposed in Deercreek township for a new gymnasium building. The building, to be located on the east side of the school, would contain two classrooms, a kitchen, locker and shower rooms in addition to the gymnasium. The first and second grades would be transferred to the addition.

Efforts to make the addition a P. W. A. project were unsuccessful. The petition to place the issue before the voters was filed with the board of elections Thursday by Clarke Smith, clerk of the board.

Wayne township board of education has a bond issue for $3,000 up for consideration for a one-room addition to the school. This room would be used for the seventh and eighth grades, now using the auditorium for classes. A bond issue for the same addition was defeated by a few votes in the 1932 election. Due to the resettlement project in the township increases in enrollment are expected. The three-mill levy in Scioto township is needed for operating expenses. It would be levied for three years.

THEATRES

AT THE CLIFTONA

Shed a tear for Hollywood's lovely showgirls. A sad, sad plight is theirs! Rated as the most beautiful girls in the world, the models featured in Jack Benny's "Artists and Models," film musical opening next Sunday at the Cliftona theatre, complain that they have far fewer body-friends and fewer dates than Minnie Gutz, the over-stuffed blonde who mixes ice cream sodas down at Obbenlobben's Drug Store!

The poor girls, as represented by Betty Dotsen, Bianca Visser, Dorothy Haas and Sandra Storme, the four girls named "the most beautiful quartette in the world" by the committee of famous artists, Peter Arno, McClelland Barclay, Arthur William Brown, Rube Goldberg, John LaGatta and Russell Patterson, point out that they don't average a date a week—which would be a pretty poor average for a reasonably popular high-school junior!

Bob Steele in "Lightnin' Crandall" is the picture at the Grand theatre Friday and Saturday. The first chapter of "Wild West Days" will be shown, too.

Japanese Evacuate

Japanese began evacuating women and children from their consulate building.

Three shrapnel shells burst immediately under the stern of a Japanese transport tied to a dock near the cruiser Augusta. A fourth burst over the transport's deck and two sailors, manning a deck gun, dropped.

Japanese destroyers, firing on the Chinese in Pootung, began sending their shells directly over the Augusta and the British cruiser Danae.

Members of the Shanghai volunteer corps, including American business men, were called out to clear the foreign waterfront of civilians, volunteer corps armored trucks, machine guns mounted on them, began to patrol the waterfront. Japanese motor cars began coming across Soochow creek bridge to the foreign settlement with evacuated women and children.

A little U. S. Navy launch puffed up the river. Three shrapnel shells burst directly over it. All watching held their breaths. The launch tied up to the Nanking road dock and four marines and two bluejackets walked imperturbably off. Not a single fragment had hit.

Shells began screaming past the tower of dominating Sassoon house on the water front.

Shrapnel began showering the British consulate general adjacent to the Soochow creek bridge.

Four Japanese airplanes roared up the river and laid down a barrage of bombs, seeking the Chinese batteries. They failed for the batteries kept up their murderous fire.

From mid-morning until mid-afternoon, the bombardment became steadily more terrible.

Shrapnel began bursting over buildings in the heart of the international settlement.

Two shells narrowly missed the British destroyer Duchess, anchored just above the Augusta.

Chinese shells were going almost over the bow of the Augusta.

There was a blast of several shells 500 yards down river from the Augusta. One of them hit an unidentified steam tug.

American marines, steel helmeted, went out to reinforce their men patrolling Soochow creek, to strengthen the barriers and prevent a rush of terrorized Chinese on the settlement from the area immediately north of the creek, where Japanese planes started a merciless bombardment.

The shrapnel from the bombs began whizzing over near the marines.

how many negroes had been aboard the 600-ton steamer, which had made more than 1,700 coastal voyages before it plunged suddenly to the bottom of the gulf Wednesday morning.

Baker, who collapsed, exhausted, on the shore near here yesterday, told coast guardsmen the Tarpon had been caught by a squall and sank in less than three minutes. It had listed badly, he said, and then "lunged forward."

"I grabbed a life preserver and jumped," he said. "It was so misty and hazy I could only see those right around me. I could see the first mate trying to keep the captain afloat. 'I tried to get Cecil Smith to swim for shore with me. But he thought it would be better to stick together. The others refused to go with me."

"So I went alone."

Baker said the water was "very rough and cold, and I almost strangled many times."

"I swam on in the direction I believed to be the shore," he said. "It was lonely. I thought several times it would be useless, but I kept on plugging."

"During the night, the wind let up and I could swim better. I was getting very tired and sort of sick when at daybreak I could see trees along the shore."

"When I finally reached the beach, I couldn't walk. It was some time before I could even crawl. Then I managed to get to the highway. I got a lift into Panama City and notified the coast guard."

Rescue parties were mobilized immediately. Coast guard amphibians directed the movements of searching craft.

Property owners are invited to call at the auditor's office to view the new appraisal values. Complaints will be heard by the County Board of Revision before the values are listed on the tax duplicate.

Champion Percheron mares in the horse judging were Mar Donna, 2-year-old owned by George A. Dix & Son of Delaware, grand champion, champion bred and owned in Ohio and junior champion; Eldora Don, owned by Dix, reserve senior champion and reserve champion bred and owned in Ohio; Patsy Girl, owned by George S. The general livestock judging team of the Union county 4-H club won first honors. Richard Schmidt, jr., Plain City, was high scorer. Van Wert county was second, Ross county third, and Madison county fourth.

The Seneca county dairy judging team, composed of Warren Winingier, McCutcheonville; Frederick Shober, McCutcheonville, and Luke Daniel, Tiffin, was first followed by teams of Darke, Butler and Shelby counties.

The crash delayed the proceedings an hour. National guardsmen and army troops doing patrol duty were ordered by their officers to "clear" the field. They took the order literally and chased everybody from the field, including Larry Therelsen, race chairman and official starter. One newspaper photographer was dragged away in handcuffs. VOTERS OF THREE TOWNSHIPS TO BALLOT ON SCHOOL ISSUES NOVEMBER 2

DEERCREEK ASKS $30,000 TO BUILD NEW GYMNASIUM

Wayne Would Construct One-Room Addition to Present Structure

3-MILL LEVY AT SCIOTO

All Questions To Be Put On Official Ticket

Voters in three townships will ballot on school issues at the November election. Deercreek and Wayne township voters will consider bond issues for school additions while Scioto township residents will vote on a three-mill levy for operating expenses.

A bond issue of $30,000 is proposed in Deercreek township for a new gymnasium building. The building, to be located on the east side of the school, would contain two classrooms, a kitchen, locker and shower rooms in addition to the gymnasium. The first and second grades would be transferred to the addition.

Efforts to make the addition a P. W. A. project were unsuccessful. The petition to place the issue before the voters was filed with the board of elections Thursday by Clarke Smith, clerk of the board.

Wayne township board of education has a bond issue for $3,000 up for consideration for a one-room addition to the school. This room would be used for the seventh and eighth grades, now using the auditorium for classes. A bond issue for the same addition was defeated by a few votes in the 1936 election. Due to the resettlement project in the township increases in enrollment are expected.

The three-mill levy in Scioto township is needed for operating expenses. It would be levied for three years.

Shed a tear for Hollywood's lovely showgirls. A sad, sad plight is theirs!

Rated as the most beautiful girls in the world, the models featured in Jack Benny's "Artists and Models," film musical opening next Sunday at the Cliftona theatre, complain that they have far fewer body-friends and fewer dates than Minnie Glutz, the over-stuffed blonde who mixes ice cream sodas down at Obbenlobben's Drug Store!

The poor girls, as represented by Betty Dotson, Blanca Visser, Dorothy Haas and Sandra Storme, the four girls named "the most beautiful quartette in the world" by the committee of famous artists, Peter Arno, McClelland Barclay, Arthur William Brown, Rube Goldberg, John LaGatta and Russell Patterson, point out that they don't average a date a week—which would be a pretty poor average for a reasonably popular high-school junior!

GUNNERS SHOOT OVER U. S. SHIP NEAR SHANGHAI

Japanese Evacuate

Japanese began evacuating women and children from their consulate building.

Three shrapnel shells burst immediately under the stern of a Japanese transport tied to a dock near the cruiser Augusta. A fourth burst over the transport's deck and two sailors, manning a deck gun, dropped.

Japanese destroyers, firing on the Chinese in Pootung, began sending their shells directly over the Augusta and the British cruiser Danae.

Members of the Shanghai volunteer corps, including American business men, were called out to clear the foreign waterfront of civilians, volunteer corps armored trucks, machine guns mounted on them, began to patrol the waterfront. Japanese motor cars began coming across Soochow creek bridge to the foreign settlement with evacuated women and children.

A little U. S. Navy launch puffed up the river. Three shrapnel shells burst directly over it. All watching held their breaths. The launch tied up to the Nanjing road dock and four marines and two bluejackets walked imperturbably off. Not a single fragment had hit.

Shells began screaming past the tower of dominating Sassoon house on the water front.

Consulate Showered

Shrapnel began showering the British consulate general adjacent to the Soochow creek bridge.

Four Japanese airplanes roared up the river and laid down a barrage of bombs, seeking the Chinese batteries. They failed for the batteries kept up their murderous fire.

From mid-morning until mid-afternoon, the bombardment became steadily more terrible.

Shrapnel began bursting over buildings in the heart of the international settlement.

Two shells narrowly missed the British destroyer Duchess, anchored just above the Augusta.

Chinese shells were going almost over the bow of the Augusta. There was a blast of several shells 500 yards down river from the Augusta. One of them hit an unidentified steam tug.

American marines, steel helmeted, went out to reinforce their men patrolling Soochow creek, to strengthen the barriers and prevent a rush of terrorized Chinese on the settlement from the area immediately north of the creek, where Japanese planes started a merciless bombardment.

The shrapnel from the bombs began whizzing over near the marines.

11 Rescued From Gulf

(Continued from Page One) how many negroes had been aboard the 600-ton steamer, which had made more than 1,700 coastal voyages before it plunged suddenly to the bottom of the gulf Wednesday morning.

Baker, who collapsed, exhausted, on the shore near here yesterday, told coast guardsmen the Tarpon had been caught by a squall and sank in less than three minutes. It had listed badly, he said, and then "lunged forward."

"I grabbed a life preserver and jumped," he said. "It was so misty and hazy I could only see those right around me. I could see the first mate trying to keep the captain afloat. 'I tried to get Cecil Smith to swim for shore with me. But he thought it would be better to stick together. The others refused to go with me."

"So I went alone."

Baker said the water was "very rough and cold, and I almost strangled many times."

"I swam on in the direction I believed to be the shore," he said. "It was lonely. I thought several times it would be useless, but I kept on plugging."

"During the night, the wind let up and I could swim better. I was getting very tired and sort of sick when at daylight I could see trees along the shore."

"When I finally reached the beach, I couldn't walk. It was some time before I could even crawl. Then I managed to get to the highway. I got a lift into Panama City and notified the coast guard."

Rescue parties were mobilized immediately. Coast guard amphibians directed the movements of searching craft.

LAND VALUATIONS TO BE DOWN AND BUILDINGS HIGHER

Although totals on the Pickaway county reappraisal are not available, indications are that land values will be slightly lower while building values have increased due to new construction and other improvements.

Records will not be completed until mills and factories throughout the county are appraised by engineers who are specially trained in this type of work. So far the engineers have not been employed.

Property owners are invited to call at the auditor's office to view the new appraisal values. Complaints will be heard by the County Board of Revision before the values are listed on the tax duplicate.

OHIO CITIES AND COUNTIES BATTLE RELIEF QUESTION

COLUMBUS, Sept. 3.—(UP)—Ohio cities and counties struggling with relief budgets were given little encouragement today, following a conference between the legislative committee and representatives of the Ohio League of Municipalities.

Although city spokesmen insist that $4,000,000 will be needed for relief financing "during the remainder of 1937, members of the legislative committee showed no inclination to sponsor new taxes.

Suggestions that $2,500,000 might be appropriated this year from a prospective year-end surplus in the general revenue fund met with no encouragement from a representative of the state finance department.

The main prospect of immediate relief funds appeared to rest on the proposed re-enactment of the original one percent utilities excise tax, on which the last collections were made last spring and devoted to retirement of poor relief bonds.

If re-enacted, proceeds of this tax could be used for current relief expenses or as the basis of new bond issues. A program urged by the Ohio League of Municipalities called for renewal of this tax as of Oct. 1. It would produce an estimated $600,000 in 1937.
